Come Explore Leading-edge Solutions to Learning, Behavior & Emotional Disorders

Popular child psychiatrist Dr. Scott Shannon (author of Please Don't Label My Child) and nine other leading healthcare professionals invite you to discover state-of-the-art insights, resources and solutions that can serve you and your family. These programs are specially designed for parents, educators and professionals who work with youth.

Join them 8:30 am to 2:00 pm on Saturday, April 12th. Various workshops and scores of non-profit and provider-sponsored displays will help you discover practical new ideas, support, hope, inspiration and useful resources.

Dr. Shannon's keynote talk will explore how essential it is that we develop a better understanding of the "ecology of the child" in order to reverse our country's current sky-rocketing trend of diagnosing and medicating children — a trend which, if it continues, will witness fully half of all American children on some kind of psychiatric drug within a generation. Dr. Shannon will present a break-out session following his 9 am keynote.
